The Second Segment of The Thread Open to the Public, Eastside Park Plans Move Forward

LaGrange, Ga. April 23, 2018 – The second segment of The Thread is officially open to the public.

The Thread representatives, city & community leaders, along with residents celebrated the second segment of The Thread ribbon cutting Saturday

The ribbon cutting ceremony was held at Eastside Park on Saturday.

The second segment of The Thread is a 2.1 mile segment that connects several recreational amenities including the Mike Daniel Recreation Center, Harris Fields, Shuford Fields, and Eastside Park.

In addition to The Thread opening, the City of LaGrange has plans to redesign Eastside Park and include the community in the process.

“Some of what makes this segment special is that it includes the Thread’s first bridge, several scenic, wooded areas and a route that keeps trail users away from the road network for much of its distance,” said City of LaGrange Senior Planner Leigh Threadgill.

“A master planning effort is almost complete to re-imagine Eastside Park. Landscaping and other improvements will continue at Eastside as we implement that plan.”
